DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 18-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The claims are directed to a computer program. Computer programs themselves, not being fixed in a tangible medium, are not within the four enumerated categories of patentable subject matter (process, machine, manufacture, composition of matter). The recitation of the elements of the program amounts to descriptive material, which is not in and of itself patentable subject matter. See MPEP 2106.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims recite in numerous instances "engaging means". Means-plus-function language is interpreted under 35 USC 112, ¶6, and requires the use of the word "for", as in "means for engaging..." By using the term "means" without the requisite "for", it is not clear whether applicant is intending to invoke the provisions of 35 USC 112, ¶6.

Clarification is required.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Baker and Wayman disclose puzzle devices.
